

Every Hotel Room in Town to Have a Bible All Its Own Monday

Next Monday morning a Bible will be found in all the rooms of most of the local hotels. This movement was made at a recent meeting of the "National Association of Protestant Ministers" to furnish the rooms of the different hotels with Bibles, and meet the needs of the traveling public. Six of the French Bible Classes represented in the Federation were heartily in favor of the movement and contributed to the purchase of the Bibles, which have already arrived. In all there are 367.

The Connellsville coke trade of 1911 was in keeping with the iron and steel trade, and was in precise figures no compared with the previous year 15% less as to production but 25% Lower Connellsville regions by quarters. It will be noticed that the new region is producing almost as much coke as the old. In due time it will doubtless produce more, especially here, strikes because it pays the best wages in the mining world, so it happened during the past year that this region profited by the troubles of other regions. While it is customary

A ruinous loss in values in 1906 the output was a little under 20,000,000 tons, but it represented a value of $10,000,000. In 1907 the output was 18,000,000 tons, but it represented a value of $10,000,000. In 1908 the output was 19,000,000 tons, but it represented a value of $10,000,000. In 1909 the output was 19,000,000 tons, but it represented a value of $10,000,000. In 1910 the output was 19,000,000 tons, but it represented a value of $10,000,000. In 1911, therefore, while the output was 19,000,000 tons, it represented a value of $10,000,000. These figures indicate that the merchant coal trade of the Commonwealth is holding its own fairly well, and that the demand for the same is not so great as the discrimination against it at present in force against them.

The shipments of Connellsville coke from each region with the totals from the first months in tons are shown here:

Girl Donned Father's Garments as Disguise and Started Out to Kill Man She Said Wronged Her.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Annie D. Ominick, 17 years old, has more faith in her own powers than she has in the law. That is the reason she started out armed with a knife to wreak vengeance on George Starnes, in order to approach him without arousing his suspicion she donned a suit of her father's, which was much too large for her slight form. Annie told the police who took her into custody after her actions in the street had aroused suspicion (that Starnes, who had formerly worked for her father, had lured her to a house in New Haven, where he had kept her a prisoner four weeks and threatened to kill her if she tried to escape. The police started out to find Starnes to get his explanation.

CLAIM AGENT ETHICS

Laid Down by General Agent of B. & O. to His Men.

General Claim Agent Egan, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, has formulated a code of business ethics for the guidance of his department in the settlement of claims during the coming year. Mr. Egan's ideas as to the observance of the principle of the Golden Rule will be forwarded in a few days to each Claim Agent employed by the big railroad system.

Essaying the role of paragrapher and laying aside for the time being the arduous duties of his official position to pen part paragraphs pertaining to principle, the General Claim Agent of the Baltimore & Ohio strikes the keynote of twentieth century railroad methods in the New Year's greeting to his staff officers when he says:

"Be polite and kind to the poor passenger that many an honest heart boats beneath the jagged coat, and a kind word during life is worth the best sermon ever preached after death.

"Do not be deceitful. Tell the truth and take your medicine. It is better for your conscience, the company and your fellow man.

"Do not be a colossal knacker. Life is but a flash at best. We should help instead of knock.

"Be honest. Because a claimant is poor, do not take advantage of him nor his condition. Fate may lead you this way some day.

"Be frank in all things. If a claimant asks your advice, give it openly and freely. If your advice is not taken, your duty has been done.

"Be courteous. In dealing with the public, do not endeavor to create the impression that you own the road. Remember that the railroad is but the servant of the people.

"Be ever patient. Patience is a virtue which few men possess. If a claimant vilifies you and says all manner of things against you treat him with all the politeness and kindness you possess, and ere the day has passed he will bemoan the fact that he made an ass of himself."

THE WEEKLY COURIER is the recognized organ of the Connelville coke trade. It has special value as an industrial journal and an advertising medium for such interests.

THURSDAY EVE'G, JAN. 4, 1912.

The Coke Trade of 1911.

The Weekly Courier's annual review of the Connelville coke trade, which is elsewhere reproduced in an abridged form, shows that the year 1911 was not as good as some years in the Connelville region, but it was not so bad as some of the workingmen and the general public were concerned.

The production was approximately 90% of the record, which means that labor was employed to that extent. It is also a matter of record that labor was and is being paid the highest wages known in the history of the region. Upon the whole, therefore, it is apparent that times in the coke region have not been so hard as some pessimistic people have in and out of print declared.

But the times have not been so good for the operators. Their revenues were reduced one-half while their expenses remained the same. In consequence of this condition the coke business of 1911 was not very profitable. Coke sold as low as $1.40 per ton and the average for the year is estimated at $1.75 per ton. Connelville coke should never sell under $2.00 per ton. A less price is a ruinous waste of our great natural resource and an open invitation to operate bankrupt.

This deplorable condition can be remedied by uniting the divided and dissident units and compelling the railroads to establish equitable freight rates, thus insuring the trade freedom from reckless competition and the restoration of its natural markets.

The latter remedy is a matter of application; the former is a matter of being in the minds of many operators, and perhaps lacks only intelligent and aggressive leadership to develop it.

President Taft is the Truck.

President Taft says that nothing but death will keep him out of the Presidential race this year.

William evidently wants what he wants when he wants it and he permits to sense of false modesty to silence his tongue. The country wants William and it is pleased to hear him announce that he is willing to be wanted.

In politics as in business most people like better the man who stands up and speaks out than the one who hushes and mumbles and flatters and advances and retreats, and who is altogether devoid of that manly personality which is over the admiration of many men.

President Taft is a candidate to succeed himself and he has no hesitancy in saying so. The open ambition of certain insouciant leaders and the velvet threads of the former chief do not frighten him from his post. A candidate he is and a candidate he will remain. He will never desert the ship.

His sails are not trimmed to every political breeze and they will not be furled to every political rival.

Somerset Censors.

Somerset county towns seem to have the same difficulty concerning the establishment of their claims as industrial centers as we have in Fayette county in determining the center of the Coke region. McVernado has thus far successfully defended its claim to being the biggest diversified industrial in the county, while Windber is acknowledged to be the biggest mining town. Rockwood has hitherto held the honor of being the biggest railroad center, but with the construction of new branches and extensive yards at Somerset, that title and ancient burg claims the distinction of being the railroad center of the county. Rockwood ought to effect an early junction with the Western Maryland. In the meantime, it has the consolation of knowing that it is a live town without the aid of the court house.

The Making of Political Capital.

The accidental Democratic House at Washington is going to make the most of its opportunities. Its leadership is supplying out programs calculated to keep the body in session until after the November election. The object, of course, is political. The Democrats hope to manufacture some capital for the campaign.

While the long session of Congress may have a depressing effect upon business it is more likely that business will discount its determinations, and proceed along its way. It is also quite possible that in the manufacture of campaign material the Democratic House may turn out quite a tidy bit of Republican ammunition.

As a rule the Democrats always help to defeat themselves.

The habit of dying with one's boots on is growing again.

Threatened Anthracite Strike.

A strike is threatened in the anthracite region this spring. Despite efforts to settle it, it is inside information that it will take place just the same. The anthracite region miners have the periodic strike habit, and they just can't get over it. They are due to have a strike this year and they are apparently determined to have it.

The strike will be unfortunate for the business of the anthracite region, but it will indirectly increase the business of the Pittsburgh coal and Connelville coke districts. It will be an ill wind, but it will blow some good westward.

The Connelville region climate was abominable during a large part of the year, but the health of the people remained excellent. This argues a hardy class of citizens.

The office of County Controller of Fayette county seems to be a saving proposition. This is a conclusion of a public suspicion. However, a businesslike board of County Commissioners helped some.

Fayette county's finances were never in better shape.

The Western Maryland line is running trains over its new line between Connelville and Cumberland, but as yet they are confined to gravel trains.

The sporting blood of Australia seems to be cooling.

There is no room in a peacetime country for either vicious dogs or vicious men. The former should be killed and the latter cowed.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS.

The Prohibitionists of Wisconsin will hold their State convention in Madison on Washington's birthday.

Governor Judson Harmon will open his campaign for the presidential nomination in Illinois in East St. Louis, January 12.

Don M. Dickinson of Michigan, who was a fellow member with Judson Harmon in President Cleveland's cabinet, is opposed to the Ohio governor's candidacy for the presidential nomination.

Democratic primaries will be held in Alabama on April 1 for the nomination of Congressmen and State officers. Two weeks later the State convention will meet in Montgomery to select delegates to the national convention.

Five Smiths will have seats in the United States Senate within a few months in view of the certainty that Marcus A. Smith, Democrat and former delegate from Arizona, will be one of the new members. At the present time there are four Smiths in the Senate—John Walker Smith of Maryland, William Alden Smith of Michigan, Homer Smith of Georgia and Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina.

Representative Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, according to present indications, will have the delegation of his own State in support of his nomination for President in the Democratic national convention. The significance of this to certain politicians is that Alabama is the first State on the roll call and it is reckoned that the national convention thus starting off on its roll call with Underwood will be a scene of enthusiasm.

BEHIND THE STOVE.

By Images of Yulon.

Once again the snow has drifted all over the north land hills. And the winter winds are howling with their cruel, snaky call.

Once again each farmer huddles near the genial kitchen fire, where to smoke his pipe in comfort. And to live out his desire.

Tourists seek fun in the orient. In a sunny southern grove; But the farmer seeks his haven just behind the cooking stove.

At the generous kitchen fire, Smokes tricks of rural life; Smokes a gentle pipe at random; Smokes and aggravates his wife.

Three good meals are always listed, Billed to come between each smoke; Meats that glare with real scumage, Pumpkin pie that are no joke.

Meals upholstered in line order, Planned for gastronomic sport; Meats that always stand inspection In a jolly Federal court.

After meals the farmer huddles thick behind the kitchen stove Where he smokes a real cornucopia, Just behind the cooking stove.

Then he dreams and gently pines As he smokes his pipe; There he smokes in happy measure, Life to him has no regret.

Death Strikes Down "Fighting Bob," Picturesque Sea Fighter is No More

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Rear Admiral Robert D. Evans died suddenly late yesterday at his home in this city. Acute indigestion was the cause of his death. He was 53 less than two hours.

Among the many brilliant and dashing commanding officers of the American navy in the last quarter of a century there was none more brave, more reliable and more idealized than "Fighting Bob" Evans, as he was affectionately called by his men. He was born at Floyd Court House, Va., August 18, 1846, the son of Samuel Andrew Jackson and Sally Ann (Jackson) Evans. His father was a native of Virginia and a graduate of the University of Virginia Medical College. His mother was a sister of James Jackson who shot Col. Ephraim B. Ellsworth of the famous Zouave Regiment for tearing the Confederate flag from the roof of his hotel, the Marshall House, at Alexandria, Va.

Robert D. Evans was educated in the schools of his native country and later at the Gonzaga Classical School at Washington, D. C. It was his ambition to enter the naval service and he enlisted the support of William H. Hooper, congressional delegate from Utah territory, who obtained for him, on September 29, 1869, an appointment as cadet of the U. S. Naval Academy.

On October 1, 1872, young Evans was promoted to the rank of ensign and ordered to the steam frigate Powhatan of the West India squadron. In 1874-75 he served with his ship in the North Atlantic blockading squadron and in 1875 he was engaged in both attacks on Port Spain, where he saw the first serious fighting and received two severe rifle shot wounds. These wounds came dangerously near putting an end to his career in the navy. The doctors, after considerable deliberation, it was necessary to amputate both legs of the young officer. But "Fighting Bob" did not agree with them. He drew his pistol and coolly informed the doctors that he would blow off the head of the first man who approached him. The doctors held another consultation and decided not to amputate Evans' legs. He was eventually cured, but retained a slight limp as a memento of his injury.

In 1881 he was sent to Chile in command of the gunboat Yorktown and during the troubles in Valparaiso he distinguished himself by his firm and tactful conduct under the most difficult conditions. Later he was sent to the Fighting Sea in command of one of the American ships to suppress seething. On June 27, 1893 he was promoted captain and in the following year at the opening ceremonies of the North Sea Canal, he commanded the cruiser New York, afterward the flagship of the North Atlantic squadron. From this he was transferred to the Indiana, the first battleship commissioned by the United States. In 1896 he was again attached to the Lighthouse Board.

During the Spanish-American War Capt. Evans was in command of the battleship Iowa, which distinguished itself during the battle of Santiago, when Cervera's fleet made an attempt to run past the blockading squadron. After his appointment as Rear Admiral, Feb. 15, 1901, Evans held several commissions; the last in 1909, when he commanded the Atlantic fleet on its cruise from Hampton Roads to San Francisco, where owing to illness he transferred the command for the rest of the cruise to Rear Admiral Sperry. His retirement followed on August 15, 1902.

SCOTSDALE'S CHURCH GETS NEW PASTOR

St. Paul's Lutheran Congregation Fills the Vacancy in Pulpit

WITH THE REV. F. E. STOUGH

Who Will Follow Rev. D. W. Michael, Who Accepted a Western Charge a Few Months Ago—Man From Knox Takes Hold in February.

Special to The Courier. SCOTSDALE, Jan. 4.—By the almost unanimous vote of the congregation a new pastor has been called to the St. Paul's Lutheran church. He is Rev. Frederick E. Stough of Knox, Pa. Rev. Mr. Stough will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. D. W. Michael, who went to a Western pulpit.

The Lutherans have been supplied by a number of different ministers since Rev. Mr. Michael left and it is said that they were fortunate in securing Rev. Mr. Stough as he is one of the ablest young men in the pulpit today. He was an honor man, as his college record shows. Graduating from Wittenburg college he took the highest honors of his class. He was then graduated from the Theological Seminary at Chicago, again taking the highest honors of that institution, and captured the highest honors in valedictory in a class of 215.

From Chicago he went to Buckley, Ill., where he started a mission, which he soon had upon a self-supporting basis. He was then called to St. James' mission in Chicago, and from a membership of 30 in 21 months he brought the membership to over 100, with a Sunday school of 300 members. He built a church seating 600 people and from St. James went to Knox where he has been for two years.

Rev. Mr. Stough is a Westerner, county boy, born and reared in the Logan valley. He is a brother of Homer D. Stough, the Broadway baker. Another brother, Rev. W. L. Stough, has been the pastor of the Lutheran church of the Annapolis, Philadelphia, for 21 years. Rev. Mr. Stough will take up his pastoral duties in Scottdale early next month.

CAMPIONSHIP IS OBTAINED. The interdenominational evangelistic campaign opened well at the United Brethren church under the leadership of Rev. O. J. Howarth, of the Christian church, preached. On Tuesday evening Rev. W. O. Russell of the Baptist church, was the minister. Last evening Rev. S. L. Postlewaite of the Mt. Pleasant United Brethren church preached. This evening Rev. W. J. Muir of the Reformed church will be the minister and on Friday evening Rev. S. S. Piper, of the Methodist church will preach. Monday evening Rev. A. R. Hendrickson, a pastor of Beaver Falls, will be here and will preach. His brother each evening of the week. There will be no meetings on Saturday evenings.

Superintendent D. S. Sherrick of the Sunday school and Pastor Hendrickson want next Sunday to be the banner day for attendance, the mark being set for 400. They urge three ways of getting ready for the event. The parents are to get the children ready, the children are to get the parents ready and everybody is to get ready. One of the Mt. Pleasant classes propose to have one-fifth of the total attendance.

HAS GOOD RECORD. Charles H. Louche, cashier of the First National Bank and one of the leading young business men of town, has rounded out 21 years of service in the employ of that institution, which he entered as a clerk. He is now cashier of a bank that by its last report shows deposits amounting to $1,431,008.93. Mr. Louche served through the entire Philadelphia campaign, and has filled a number of borough offices, including that of Burgess.

LARGE PRAYER MEETINGS. The regular Wednesday evening prayer meetings of town showed increased attendance last evening, and in each of them the dominant theme was a consecration of lives for the year 1912.

RECOVERING POPULAR. The cold snap has caused butchering to be popular among those farmers who preferred their porkers to a cold snap, and the dying squeals of many a pig have been piercing the frosty air the last few days.

FOR SALE. Six room dwelling and store at Pennville, Pa., including all goods, now doing a good business; 2 acres lot, barn and other outbuildings; good spring of water. Price $2,500.00. Welmer & DeWitt, Scottdale, Pa.

Mt. Pleasant.

MT. PLEASANT, Jan. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Barron of Yoder avenue, most handsomely entertained their seven children and twenty-four grandchildren. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Elcher and sons, Roy and Stuart, and daughter, Edna; Mr. and Mrs. David Barron, sons William and Henry and daughter, Blanche; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barron and daughter, Hazel, of this place; Rev. L. A. Nedrow, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Frederick City, Md.; his wife, daughter, Ruth and Virginia and sons, Paul, Jason and Ephraim; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Stairs, daughter, Virginia, and sons, Byron, Floyd, Edward, Lawrence and Russell; of Aeno; Mr. and Mrs. John Barron, daughter, Alberta, sons, Wesley and Howard; Mrs. B. B. Hittner and daughter, Lena; and Ethel, Mrs. W. J. Barron and daughter, Bertha, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Emma Kessler of Scottdale. The dinner was the feature of the home-coming. Each child and grandchild was given a present by the happy parents.

Wm. Hader of Schuylkill, N. Y., the guest of his mother and brother, Oscar, at the Ruder Inn. Misses Margaret Madden and Bertie Hartwig attended the opening of Tynno Hall in Everton last evening.

The next union meeting of the Men's Bible classes will be held in the Methodist church on Sunday afternoon and will be addressed by Rev. S. L. Postlewaite.

Levi Harkins was arrested and placed in the lockup for drunk and disorderly conduct. You Goldsmith left yesterday for Morgantown, W. Va., where he will enter the University of West Virginia to study law.

Misses Elizabeth and Gertrude Hunt were the guests of Mrs. Roy Myers of Scottdale.

DINNER FOR DRUM

Vesta Coal Company's Superintendent is Given Coxy Watch. At a banquet in Coal Center, N. E. church last week Thursday night, of foremen and employees of the Vesta Coal Company, the General Manager and Superintendent, R. D. Drum, was presented with a coxy watch, attesting to the high esteem and confidence in which he is held by these employees. The presentation speech was made by District Attorney-elect Richard C. Miller, of Washington. Seventy-three guests sat down to the festive board.

The affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Drum and he was involved into attending the banquet by representation that it was to celebrate his son, Harry Drum's birthday. When once within the auspicious walls of the church, a new light dawned upon him and he realized with one survey of his many assistants that something more than usual was about to transpire. The dinner, a special turkey dinner, was under the direction of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. Several addresses were made, the principal ones being those of Attorney Miller on presenting Mr. Drum with the watch and Mr. Drum's reply.

Wilson's Campaign in Michigan. The Woodrow Wilson forces of the Democratic party in Michigan have perfected a campaign organization with a view to landing the State delegation for the nomination of the New Jersey governor for President.

Recently Discharged. At a hearing yesterday before Judge A. C. Duncan at Dunbar, Earl Leckemby was discharged. He faced serious charges preferred by Virginia Ross, a colored girl.

YOUR SOUR, GASSY, UPSET STOMACH WILL FEEL FINE IN FIVE MINUTES

A Little Diaprepain Will Promptly Regulate any Bad Stomach.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take a little Diaprepain occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, flatulency, a feeling of fullness after eating, nausea, indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), bloating, heartburn, water-brush, pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diaprepain really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach fails. A steady dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large, 50-cent, case of Diaprepain from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach. For you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives, or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

THIS IS MY 49TH BIRTHDAY.

Louis Tracy.

Louis Tracy, the author of numerous popular romances, was born in Liverpool, January 4, 1863. His life has been of the adventurous type. He early ran away from home to join the navy, but ended by going to college in France. While still a youth he went into English journalism and in 1883 called for India, where he edited a newspaper and wrote a book on India.

Three years later he returned to England to help T. P. O'Connor start the London Sun. Later he joined Sir Alfred Harmsworth and others in the purchase of the London Evening News. During the hard winter of 1894-5 Mr. Tracy organized a fund for the poor of London and gave away 1,500,000 free meals in six weeks.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 4.—With more than ordinary interest the public is watching the opening of the trial, next Monday, of Allison MacFarland, charged with having caused the death of his wife by poisoning her with cyanide of potassium. The prosecution of the defendant is practically completed and no undue delay of the trial is anticipated. Prosecutor William A. Mott will represent the state, while James R. McDermitt will defend the accused. The case presents many unusual and interesting features which, in a measure, recall some of the features of the Richeson case in Cambridge, Mass. In both cases the victim died of poisoning by cyanide of potassium and in both cases the poison was taken while the person accused of having committed the murder was absent. When Mrs. MacFarland, for whose murder Allison MacFarland is to be tried next Monday, was poisoned, the accused husband was not at his home in this city but in New York, accompanied by his six-year-old son.

Allison MacFarland was born in Thomaston, Me., about 35 years ago. He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacFarland of that city and received his early education in the Thomaston grammar and high schools. After two years in the high school Allison MacFarland went to Rockland, Me., where he attended a commercial school. It was there that he met Evelyn, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Crockett, of Rockland. Allison frequently visited at the girl's home and after a courtship of two years they became engaged. They were married at Rockland on October 31, 1906 and, for a few years seemed to live happily together. MacFarland was not a steady worker. After coming to Newark, they went to Quincy, Mass., then to New York, then to Chicago, then to St. Louis and finally to Philadelphia. Allison MacFarland is an inveterate inventor and while in Philadelphia, invented an automobile tire. Several capitalists became interested in the invention and furnished a capital of $10,000 to put the tire on the market. Offices were opened and Miss Florence Bromley was engaged as stenographer. She was a handsome and attractive blonde with a somewhat romantically past and Allison MacFarland soon became infatuated with her. This was about three years ago.

Mrs. MacFarland soon learned of the relations between her husband and the pretty stenographer and, a short time before the birth of her second child she returned to her parents in Rockland, where she remained nearly two years. In the meantime the company for manufacturing the rubber tires had failed and MacFarland came to Newark, where he obtained a position with the Crocker-Wheeler Company, manufacturers of electrical appliances. Not until last July did MacFarland make any effort to induce his wife to return to him. At his request she came to Newark with her daughter and her first-born son and her parents believed that a perfect reconciliation had taken place between her and her husband. It seems, however, that MacFarland continued his relations with the pretty stenographer and made frequent trips to that city to visit Miss Bromley secretly. How well they kept under cover may be inferred from the fact that for several years the parents of Miss Bromley were entirely ignorant of the fact that she carried on a love affair with a married man right before their eyes and entertained intimate relations with MacFarland, whom she met whenever he came to Philadelphia.

On Tuesday, October 17, last MacFarland went to New York with his little son to take the boy to the theatre. They remained in New York over night and did not return to Newark until Wednesday morning. When MacFarland arrived at his home he found his wife, dressed in her nightgown, dead on the bed. Instead of summoning Dr. Crowley, his next-door neighbor, MacFarland, who did not seem in the least excited, waited several blocks and called Dr. William V. Gale. The latter hurried to MacFarland's house and after a brief examination came to the conclusion that Mrs. MacFarland had died from cyanide of potassium poisoning. MacFarland admitted that he had a bottle of cyanide in the house and produced the bottle. The latter, which had been used for bromide, which Mrs. MacFarland had been in the habit of taking for her headaches, still had the bromide label and under it a small label with the inscription "Cyanide of Potassium."

MacFarland was arrested and charged with the murder of his wife. The theory of the prosecution is that he brought about the death of his wife to marry Miss Bromley and it is stated that letters found in his possession tend to bear out this theory.

ROUTINE COURT

Papers Filed and Cases Disposed of at Valentown.

Emily Etta Smith, aged four years, will make her home one month with her mother, Mrs. Minnie Smith, and the next month with her grandparents, Walter and Minnie Smith, being taken by her grandparents on alternate months.

This unusual arrangement was made in court Wednesday when the grandparents appeared with the child to answer a writ of habeas corpus secured by the mother of the child. Papers have been prepared contesting the election of George Gregg as constable of the Third Ward, Connelleville. Charles Wilson, who previously held the office is the complainant. The ground for the case is the Supreme Court decision regarding third class city officers.

By an order of court yesterday Mildred Gladys Coughenour was adopted as their child by Clark C. and Minnie Swink of Connelleville. The child is a daughter of Lorenzo Coughenour of Connelleville. Suit was filed yesterday by A. M. Lyon against Susie and Jones Shepler for $25 alleged to be due on a mortgage. Both parties live in Connelleville. F. L. Youngkin of Connelleville is attorney for the plaintiff.

REAL FLESH TARGETS FOR SOLDIERS' BAYONETS

But Uncle Sam's Fighters Will Train on Sides of Beef Instead of the Human Article.

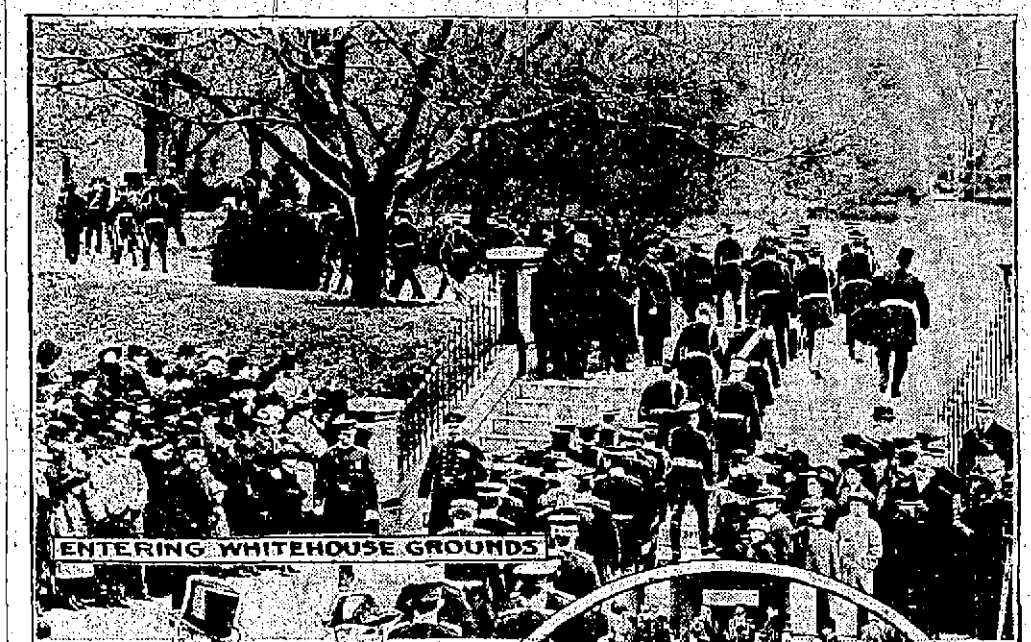

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Realism that is realism as a means of making real fighting men out of Uncle Sam's soldiers is recommended by two officers who have been at work in the War Department for weeks revising the bayonet manual.

The officers declare that the training of the American soldier in the use of the bayonet, as at present conducted, is merely theoretical and perfunctory. In order to give the prospective war man a real thrill, they propose that soldiers shall be trained by thrusting their mounted bayonets into real flesh. Not until the soldier has learned the feel of the sharp blade in the raw flesh, they say, can he hope to be competent as a man-killer.

The officers recommend the use of raw beef as a substitute for human flesh, and have pointed out that this new would entail no additional expense as the sides of beef from the company kitchen could be used for the exercise, and then returned to the cooks practically unharmed so far as their use for food is concerned.

President Taft's Right Arm Sore After He Had Shaken Hands With 8,092 Visitors on New Year's Day

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—President Taft's good right arm and equally good right arm are slowly recovering from the strain of New Year's Day when he shook hands with 8,092 visitors. It was the most successful reception that has been held at the White House since Mr. Taft became President. The reception began at 11 o'clock and lasted until ten minutes past 2. Nearly all of the members of the Cabinet were in line with the President, and practically all of official Washington attended the reception. Though only a few more than 8,000 took their places in line to meet the President, probably as many more called at the White House and contented themselves with watching the army and navy officers in their uniforms and the ambassadors and diplomats in their gorgeous regalia.
